"FRUIT-A-LIVES" Keeps His Stomach and Liver in order

F. R. ADAMS

154 Elm St., Lakeport, N. H.
"I realize that I have reached the age (65) when one often requires fixing up. My digestion was not right and trouble with my Liver and Bowels caused considerable distress. I could not get rid of the Constipation; and the insufficient action of my bowels resulted in my blood absorbing the poisons.

Last fall, I began taking 'Fruit-a-lives' or Fruit Liver Tablets, and after using them for a short time I could see they were just what my system required. My liver became active and improvement in every way was apparent.

I doubt whether anyone could feel better than I do; and I am willing to give credit where credit is due, to 'Fruit-a-lives'." F. R. ADAMS.

BRILLIANT CHURCH WEDDING AT WILDER

Ray W. Howard and Miss Nita A. Palmer Married Wednesday Afternoon

Many St. Johnsbury people are interested in the wedding at Wilder on Wednesday afternoon of a former resident, Ray W. Howard, now of Piermer, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Palmer of Wilder. The bride has frequently visited St. Johnsbury at the homes of her brothers, B. A. and Cecil E. Palmer and is also well known here.

The First Congregational church of Wilder was the scene of the brilliant wedding at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the auditorium being filled with relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

Rev. L. G. Chase, pastor of the church performed the ceremony using the double ring service. The bride who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Miss C. Augusta Palmer, of St. Albans, as maid of honor, and two bridesmaids, Miss Jennie Willis of St. Albans, and Miss Nita Ellis of Morrisville. Dorothy S. Howard, niece of the groom, was the little flower girl, and Emory H. Palmer of St. Albans, nephew of the bride was the ring bearer, carrying the rings on a long stemmed rose. The groom's best man was his cousin, Fred E. Woodruff of Newport, and the ushers were Cecil E. Palmer of St. Johnsbury and Lawrence H. Palmer of Wilder. The Misses Margaret Campbell and Lillian Palmer, violins, accompanied by Miss Miriam Campbell, at the organ played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin as the bride party entered the church. At the close of the marriage ceremony, they also played a few selections as the guests were assembling. The church was decorated with four evergreen arches at the entrance and aisles, studded with pink roses, while bouquets of roses and ferns were used in profusion through the entire church. The bride wore a gown of white silk net over silver cloth with bodice of point lace cut on train. She wore a tulle veil draped high at the back and held in position with a wreath of white sweet peas and carried a bouquet of white roses and shower of white sweet peas. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. The maid of honor wore Nile green taffeta silk with silver lace and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Willis wore canary blue taffeta silk, while Miss Ellis wore rose pink silk, both carrying bouquets of pink sweet peas. The little flower girl carried a crocheted flower basket filled with pink rose buds.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Gladys M. Palmer of Waitsfield, a schoolmate of the bride served in the diningroom assisted by the Misses Doris Howard, and Marguerite Palmer. Mr. and Mrs. Howard will be at home after the first of August at Piermont, N. H.

HOOVER URGES PASSAGE

VERSAILLES TREATY

NEW YORK, June 26—The speedy ratification of the treaty of Versailles after the elimination of Article 10 is urged by Herbert C. Hoover the platform on which the Republican party should stand in the coming campaign. Mr. Hoover takes the stand that the implied threat of military force to guarantee the integrity of foreign nations was out of the question. "The League's power would be more potent if the threat of military force were removed and the League relied wholly on its moral and economic power. Mr. Hoover said that sooner or later the United States must ratify the treaty of Versailles in some form and that the talk of negotiating a new treaty was "bunk."

Your Gas Meter is More Accurate Than Your Watch

Put one hundred of the best watches against one hundred gas meters in a crucial test for accuracy, exposed to the same varying conditions of heat, cold, humidity, and the meters will win out every time.

All things considered, the gas meter is one of the most accurate measuring instruments in use today.

Like the registering turnstile in baseball parks, railroad stations and fair grounds, the meter will not operate unless something passes through it. The mechanism is not set in motion and the indicator hands cannot move except as more or less gas passes through the meter and makes them move.

Before a meter is set in your premises, it is thoroughly tested and proved for correct registration by your gas company, or, in certain sections of the country, by meter inspectors employed by the city or state. These inspectors are your trusted representatives and they place an official seal upon the meters, thus certifying to their accuracy.

It is interesting to know that the original mechanical principles adopted in 1844 for the correct measurement of gas still persist. Hundreds of inventors have endeavored to get something better, but they have improved on details only. Today the meter stands as the survival of the fittest. If a more perfect device could be obtained, your gas company would promptly adopt it.
